

The pictogram shows the numbers of children who voted for their favourite flavour of crisps. How many children like plain best?

The pictogram shows the numbers of children who voted for their favourite flavour of crisps. How many children took part?

What is the name of the shape which is used to represent 10 children? How many lines of symmetry does it have?

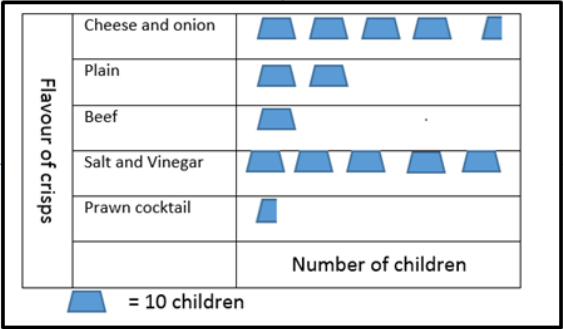

How many parallel sides does the shape in the key have?

The pictogram shows the numbers of children who voted for their favourite flavour of crisps. How many children like plain best?

20

The pictogram shows the numbers of children who voted for their favourite flavour of crisps. How many children took part?

130

What is the name of the shape which is used to represent 10 children? How many lines of symmetry does it have?

1

How many parallel sides does the shape in the key have?

1 pair